VOL. CVXIIII.— 49. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1913. PRICE, 2 CENTS

ALEXANDRIA MAY CELEBRATE EVENT

Committee Named to Join In Observance of Anniversary of Peace.

MAYOR FISHER ACTS.

Accepts Cordial Invitation to Assist in Celebrating Anglo-American Peace of Ghent.

Alexandria has been invited to join the monster celebration of the 100 Anniversary of the Anglo-American Peace which will be celebrated during the week of February 1915, and Mayor Fisher on the part o fthe city has accepted the invitation and named a committee of prominent citizens to act in conjunction with the committee of 100 from Washington.

The members of the committee, as named by Mayor Fisher, are as follows:

John M. Johnson, J. K. M .Norton, Rev. W. J. Morton, Dr. Edgar Snowden, Dr. S. B. Moore, George E. Warfield, E. L. Daingerfield, T. C. Smith, Henry K. Field, J. R. Zimmerman, Arthur Herbert, Jr., Robert S. Barrett, J .Fred Birrell, John A. Marshall, and Samuel P. Fisher.

The Mayor has suggested John M. Johnson as chairman of the committee and the central committee has asked Mr. Fisher to become the honorary chairman.

The celebration promises to be the most important to take place in this section of the country in many years. The signing of the treaty of Ghent marked the end of the war between the United States and England, an event in which Alexandria was greatly interested.

The celebration will consist of meetings, concerts, festivals, and many other features which have not yet been planned.

James Brown Scott, chairman of the Committee of Washington wrote Mayor Fisher as follows:

"I have the honor to inform you that at a meeting on November 22, 1912, of the Committee of 100 appointed by the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia to arrange for the celebration of the Centenary of Anglo-American Peace at the National Capital, the following resolution, recommended by the committee on the Plan and Scope of the celebration, was unanimously adopted:

"It is recommended that the mayor of Alexandria be invited to appoint representatives of that city to serve and to co-operate with it in arranging for a joint celebration. Alexandria was virtually concerned in the events of 1814, growing out of the same campaign, and the opportunity seems a fitting one in which to recognize the neighborly ties which bind the two communities together."

"In accordance with this action, it affords me great pleasure to ask you to designate a committee of from seven to eleven citizens of Alexandria, of which I hope that you will consent to act as chairman, to cooperative with the Washington committee, in arranging and acrrying out an appropriate joint celebration of the Centenary of Anglo-American Peace."

In his reply Mayor Fisher said:

"I now express in the name of Alexandria and its citizens appreciation of your desire to have us join the people of Washington in a proper celebration of what has thus far proven a lasting peace between the United States and Great Britain.

"While the date for the proposed celebration is two years off, January 15-20, 1915, yet I will without further delay select John M. Johnson, J .K. M. Norton, Rev. W. J. Morton, Dr. Edgar Snowden, Dr. S. B. Moore, Geo. E. Warfield, E. L. Daingerfield, T. C. Smith, H. K. Field, J R. Zimmerman, Arthur Herbert, Jr., Robert. S. Barrett, J. Fred Birrell, John A. Marshall, S. P. Fisher, and myself, but I do think that some older person than I should act as chairman and I suggest the name of John M. Johnson for that position."

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The New Jersey Assembly, after hours of debate, concurred in the Senate resolution providing for an amendment to the State Constitution giving women the ballot right. The house passed the measure by a vote of 46 to 5, but only after several of the members had engaged in bitter denunciation of each other.

Standing on the edge of the open grave into which the body of her 16-month-old baby boy had just been lowered, Mrs. Fannie Pollock, 23 years old, of Philadelphia, yesterday committed suicide by drinking poison. The final words of the funeral service were being spoken and she was surrounded by members of her family and close friends, when she drew a phial from her muff and drained the contents. Mrs. Pollock's husband, from whom she had been separated for some time, seized her in time to prevent her from falling into the grave. She died before reaching a hospital. The baby was the young mother's only child and was accidentally burned to death while she was working in a shirtwaist factory.

When his 19-year-old bride asked for a kiss yesterday when he was not in the mood, Lesho Vigero, 22 years old, of Trenton, N. J., shot and killed her. He then shot himself. He is still alive, but it is thought that he will die. Vigero told the police that he was tired of kissing her every time he left home. The couple had been married only a month.

The operations of the five armies engaged in the Balkan War have been brought practically to a standstill by the wintry weather. Snowstorms are frequent and the roads are in a deplorable state. The daily official dispatches, upon which the world is now compelled to rely for news from the theater of war, repeat the stereotyped statement. "Nothing of importance has occurred."

As the result of his alleged effort to sell his young girl wife of 16 into a resort into Huntington, W. Va., Tuck Hubbard, 38 of Louisville, Ky., was arrested on a warrtnt issued by the federal authorities charging him with violating the "white slave act." Hubbard was bound over to await the action of the federal grand jury, and in default of bail was remanded to jail. The police claim that under the pretense that he was taking her to a rooming house. Hubbard took his young wife to a resort, and, according to the story of the proprietress, offered to sell the girl to her, and made inquiries as to what would be a fair price.

Mrs. Barney Quinn, of Atlantic City, N. J., lost her balance while leaning over a stationary washtub, struck her head against the faucet and was rendered unconscious. In falling the weight of her head turned the spiggot in such a way as to wedge her head between the tub and fixtures. The grip of the spiggot pressed against her throat and she was strangled to death. Her body was discovered an hour after the accident occurred.

TIRED MAN ENDS LIFE.

Woodbury, N. J., Feb. 27.—Samuel S. Sneyd, aged 46, years, treasurer and assistant secretary of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, with offices in the LaFayette Building, Philadelphia,committeed suicide late Tuehday night at his home on Euclid street.

With every comfort of a luxurious home, a very lucrative position, and being executor of the estate of his sister, the late Mrs. Kenworthq, and a guardian of a niece, Miss Florence Kenworthy, who is now traveling in Egypt, there was no apparent reason for his suicide, and the belief is that his mind was temporarily deranged.

Mrs. Applebaum Held.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 26.—Mrs. J. A. Applebaum was today held by a coroner's jury to await investigation by the grand jury as to the circumstances surrounding the death of her husband in the Dakota Hotel early yesterday. Applebaum, a Chicago merchant, was shot twice, dying at once. The tragedy occurred in his room, and Mrs. Applebaum ran down the steps and fainted in the lobby. She refused to discuss the shooting, declaring she remembered nothing of the incidents leading directly up to the tragedy.

WILL RECOGNIZE NEW GOVERNMENT

Rebellion in North Mexico Said to be Practically at an End.

DENIAL OF SHOOTING.

General Felix Diaz Planning for a Standing Arm yof 150,000 Men For The Country.

Mexico City, Via Galveston, Feb. 27.—Venustiano Carranza, revolting governor of Coahuila today expressed wilingness to recognize the Diaz-Huerta government, according to a report at the National Palace, and if this be true, the rebellion in the north may be considered practically broken. Pascual Orozco, jr., governor of Tobasco, the most powerful of the northern rebel generals, already has declared allegiance to the new government.

The Huerta administration plans immediately to urge the United States to recognize the new government, through Emilio Rabasa, appointed ambassador to Washington Rabasa, a former senator and one of Mexico's authorities on International Law, was chosen by Huerta and confirmed by the cabinet at a special meeting.

Exactly as Emilio Madero, brother of the slain president was reported killed near Monterey, so there was a report and denial of the shooting of Raoul Madero in Torreon. There was a rumor today that Huerta had admitted that Emilio Madero is dead, but this could not be confirmed.

Announcement that the provisional president and General Felix Diaz have made tentaitve plans for a standing army of $150,000 men for Mexico has shown that the Iron handed—days of Diaz have returned to Mexico. If the plans of Huerta and Diaz are carries out, there will be federal garrisons in every state of the republic.

It was said today that the Zapatistas would give the new government no further trouble until Huerta gives Zapata a formal answer to the rebel leader's proposal for peace. Should Huerta refuse to make terms with the Zapatistas, raiding will be resumed, according to those who have talked with the chief.

In line with the plans to increase the standing federal army it became known that a bill authorizing a bond issue for a loan of 200,000,000 pesos will be introduced in Congress today Government officials assert that American financial firms are willing to make the loan.

Rabasa the new ambassador has been instructed to make every effort to bring about early recognition of the new government as the loan cannot be made until recognition is granted.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 27.—Fighting is general today throughout the states of Sonora, Coahuila and Morelos.

Jose Marytonera, who resigned the governorship of Sonora, late yesterday, has fled and it is reported he has come to the American side.

Maderista troops are being armed and put in the field. In Coahuila Raoul Madero and Governor Carranza, are at the head of rebellious forces which already have captured Saltillo, the state caital.

The Maderistas, as yet, are without a general leader.

Ban on Sandwich Law.

New York, Feb. 27.—It was suggested today that the desert of Sahara will have nothing on this state on Sunday because the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court placed a ban on the "Raines Law Sandwich" as a full meal. Heretofore the sandwiches, properly dusted, have done duty on Sunday after Sunday, their presence on the table being considered sufficient service of a meal under the law to permit hotel proprietors to purvey unlimited drinks. But there will be nothing doing in the future. A meal must be offered if a drink is to be had.

SENATE FOR BRIDGE.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27. The Senate at 3 o'clock this morning passed the public building bill and while the item for the Memorial Bridge across the Potomac was retained, the appropriation was cut from $5,000,000 to $1,500,000. the item was in danger of elimination altogether but finally went through by the persistence of Senators Martin and Swanson. The appropriation of $5,000,000 was strenuously opposed by Senator Hoke Smith, and as warmly advocated by Senator Swanson of Virginia. Senator Smith started out to talk the item to death, but Senator Owen got the floor, and while he was speaking Senator Smith proposed the reduction, and after a conference of friends of the item Senator Swanson accepted the compromise.

IMPROVEMENT AT PARK.

Grounds to Have Careful Attention Before Opening of Season.

The officers and stockholders of the Alexandria Sporting Association, anticipating that this year will be the most successful baseball season of the Association's career, will immediately commence to make improvements at the baseball park so as to have everything in first class condition for the Cardinals' opening day next month.

The grounds will be carefully harrowed,and holes fiilled, stone and rocks removed from the diamond, and the entire field rolled to a smooth and even surface. When this work is completed Alexandria will have an amateur baseball diamond that will be the equal of any in the state.

A new feature will be added this season to the park that is sure to please the followers of athletics. A surveyor will be engaged to lay out an oval cinder path on the extreme sides and ends of the park whose circuit wil lbe one-eighth of a mile. The cinder path will act for a double purpose—improve the looks of the park and be used for foot races of every description.

During the season there will be a series of races for adults as well as scholo boys, and if possible, the athletically inclined young ladies will be given a chance to display their skill and speed on the cinder path. Handsome prizes will be awarded the winners of the races.

Charles J. Graf, the well-known amateur baseball magnate of Washington, D. C., will assist the Cardinal Athletic Club by getting teams of first class organizations to play exhibition games in Alexandria.

The Cardinal's members are now practicing in Armory Hall evenings to get themselves in trim for their early spring games. Captain Kemp Cockrell will only allow his squad the lightest kind of practice indoors,preferring to wait until they can play in the open air.

ANOTHER FERRY BOAT.

Steamer "Angler' to Run to Washington for Inauguration.

To aid in carrying the people of this city to Washington to witness the suffragette and inaugural ceremonies on Monday and Tuesday of next week the Steamer Angler will be put in service and will make eleven round-trips leaving here on the first trip at 9 a. m., and leaving Washington on the last trip at midnight. The landing place of the steamer at this city will be Roberts' Wharf, foot of King street and in Washington she will land at 6th Street Wharf by which pass all the car lines going up town. The steamer is a roomy one with a capacity for 900 persons, but on no trips will those in charge allow her to be crowded, so that those who patronize her can be sure of a comfortable trip. For complete schedule see advertisement in another column.

DEATHS.

Charles E. Cobb, a flagman employed by the Southern Railway Company, aged 25 years, who had been suffering from typhoid fever, died early this morning at the residence of Charles Mankin, 210 north Patrick street. His remains will be shipped to Orange on Saturday morning.

Ruth, the infant child of Mr. Albert W., and Mrs. Maud Harrison, died at her parents' home, 333 south Patrick street, this morning.

NEW EXECUTIVE AND ORGANIZED LABOR

W. B. Wilson, Will, it is Said, be Secretary of Department of Labor.

MAKE UP OF CABINET.

Mr. Wilson Has Several Under Consideration as Candidates for Members of His Official Family.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Organized labor is to be recognzed by President-elct Wilson. According to close friends of the incoming president, Representative William B. Wilson, an official of the American Federation of Labor, former secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers' of North America, and endorsed by the federation at its recent convention in Rochester "for a cabinet position," will be made secretary of the department of labor under the Borah bill just passed by Congress.

While accepted as settled, here that Bryan will be secretary of State, McAdoo, secretary of the Treasury; Burleson, postmaster general; Daniels, secretary of the Navy and Wilson secretary of labor, it was believed there had been a shift in the attorney generalship.

Governor Widson has favored appointing Louis Brand, of Boston, to this position, but gossip today has the Boston attorney leading the list for secretary of commerce. Brandesis, however, is not yet out of the running for the attorney generalship. Others being considered for this position are James McReynolds,of Tennessee, trust buster, President Edgar Farrer of the American Bar Association of New Orleans; former Governor Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri; William A. Glasgow, of Philadelphia, and Chancellor Edwin R. Walker, of New Jersey .

Governor Wilson has under consideration the name of Representative William C. Redfield of Brooklyn, for a cabinet position. So far as Henry Morgenthau, of New York, and David R. Penfield, of Philadelphia, are concerned, it was stated here today that they will be named for positions in the diplomatic service.

HANGED BY ELECTRIC CRANE.

Alien Workman Meets Distressing Fate in Boiler Plant.

Coatsesville, Pa., Feb. 27.—A premature signal given to an electric crane operator in the boiler works here yesterday resulted in Antonio Gueisfo losing his life.

While he was fastening the hooks at the bottom of a boiler shell the crane started,he was caught between the boiler shell and two heavy chains and suspended by the neck, death being almost instantaneous.

Believes Son Lives.

Inspired by the belief that her son, who died 18 months ago, still breathes because his body harbors some "eternal fire," Mrs. Martha Alessandri, wife of Riccordo Alessandri, an Italian employe of the Venezuelan Legation in Washington yesterday prevailed upon the authorities to open the coffin that she might be assured her son was dead. Even after she had viewed the face of the body through the glass of the coffin and two eminent physicians had declared she was mistaken, the heart-broken mother refused to believe the boy is dead. The 17-year-old boy, Riccordo, jr., succumbed to tuberculosis August 18, 1911. Since that time his mother has visited the chapel at St. Mary's cemetery, in which the casket has lain, placing flowers and burning candles upon it. To prevent the cemetery superintendent from burying the body Mrs. Alessandri has been compelled to obtain innumerable permits from the Health Department of the District of Columbia. For months after the boy's death she besieged that department to open the casket, declaring that her son would be found alive. Failing she appealed to physicians to make an investigation.

FOUR BANDITS ARE SENTENCED TO DIE

Dramitic Scene at Paris in Trial of Automobile Outlaws for Murder.

DECLARES INNOCENCE.

Condemned Man Commits Suicide in Cell—Pretty Wife of One of the Gang Swoons in Court.

Paris, Feb. 27.—With four of Bonnot's "automobile bandits" condemned to die by the guillotine; seven freed and the others sentenced to various term of imprisonment and exile, one of the most tensely dramatic moments in the French court history came early today when the condemned men were given opportunty to speak.

"I am innocent," cried Dieudonne, one of those sentenced to die, leaping wildly to his feet. "I swear that I am innocent."

It was Bieudennac, who ,the bank messenger Gaby Swore, shot him through the breast, in one of the hand smost daring daylight robberies. Gaby was positive in his identification.

There was a piercing shriek from the audience, and Dieudonne's youthful and pretty wife began to cry hysterically. Friends and court attaches could not quiet her.

"I will not be still; he is innocent!" she cried many times.

"Dieudonne is innocent!" declared Callemin, who himself had just been sentenced to lose his head on the guillotine. "Diudonne did not shoot Gaby. He was not even present at the hold-up. I myself shot Gaby, and it was Gardiner, not Dieudonne, who was with me."

There was a tremendous uproar in the court, and when order was restored, it was said that the jurors already were signing a petition asking the court to pardon Dieudonne.

Edouard Carouy one of the men condemned to life imprisonment swallowed cyanide of potassium as soon as he was returned to his cell and was dead before physicians summoned by guards.

The court imediately ordered a rigid inquiry as to how the man obtained the poison.

There was another story that Carouy did not take cyanide, but choked himself to death by swallowing a piece of his flannel undershirt.

Dieudonne, Callemin, Monneir, and Soudy were the men condemned to death.

Carouy and Medge were sentenced to prison for life.

Bodriguez and three women, Mlle Leclech, Mlle. Schmoofs and Mme. Maitrejean were freed on extenuating circumstances. The others of the 21 bandits were sentenced to from one to ten years in prison and from one to ten years' exile.

Murderer's Confession.

Abraham Steinberg, a walking delegate, was murdered in New York on orders of button-hole contractors, who feared his labors would injure their business, according to the alleged confession of Harry Wagner, the man charged with the killing. Wagner, who was arrested shortly after the murder on January 7, confessed to the police, they say, that he committed the crime for $50 and because of the threat that he would be prosecuted for forgery.

The object of the contractors was to prevent the signing of a contract, arranged by Steinberg, which would have eliminated them as middlemen and caused the clothing manufacturers and the National Buttonhole Makers' Union to deal directly with each other.

Wagner, the police say, named Abraham Flalkoff, as the button-hole contractor whose name he had forged to checks. Flalkoff, his 18-year-old daughter, and Weinstein, also a button-hole contractor, were arrested today, the men charged with homicide and the girl with being an accessory after the fact.

London—"It's quite simple; the prisoner is my sister's husband's brother's wife's brother" explained a witness in ondon sessions when the magistrate failed to grasp a relationship.

FISH WHARF PROPERTY.

To Be Rented at Public Auction in Front of City Hall at Noon Saturday Next.

According to annual custom, the city fish wharf will be rented at public action in front of the City Hall on Saturday by W. W. Ballenger, chairman of the committee on public property. There is no reason to suppose the renter will pay any more than the property has brought during the past few years. According to law, all fresh fish brought to Alexandria must be landed at this point. During the summer watermelons which are brought here must also be landed at the city's wharf.

The fish wharf in by-gone years brought several thousand dollars for the season, but of late it brings but a few hundred. In fact a few years ago the city failed to rent it at the time advertised and for a few days it looked as though its usefulness was at an end. It was finally rented for a nominal sum.

Fishtown and vicinity half a century or more ago was a busy section of Alexandria during the fishing season. Virtually all the fish caught in the Potomac were brought to the city's wharf. People came from West Virginia and some from Ohio to lay in their supply of fish, while others from this entire Congresional district came to Alexandria for supplies.

Many "cutters" were employed on the wharves during the season and considerable money was put in circulation.

Of late years the fish are cut and packed upon the shores where caught and are shipped direct from these points to customers; hence but little of the season's catch are brought to Alexandria.

On Trial For Murder.

Jennings Watkins, colored, charged with the murder of Jasper Wilkes, colored, was placed on trial for his life in the Circuit Court of Alexandria County this morning. Judge J. B. T. Thornton, presiding. The accused is represented by Attorney Machen, and the prosecution is being conducted by Commonwealth's Attorney Crandal Mackey.

The murder took place February 1, last, at Queen City. It is understood that Watkins will claim self-defense, and also claim that the murder was brought about as a result of attentions paid to his wife by the man whom he killed.

ANOTHER COMMITTEE MEETING.

An important meeting of committees of streets and general laws of City Council will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Council rooms, for the purpose of hearing a discussion of the ordinance which was introduced several weeks ago prohibiting roller skating on the sidewalks. A meeting of the same committees was held ten days ago but adjourned until tonight when a more fuller discussion could take place. The question has aroused the greatest interest in the city and a number of ladies are endeavoring to prevent the passage of any law on the subject. Members of Council are being bombarded with petitions from their constituents on both sides of the question.

AN OLD CITY LANDMARK.

Correspondent Tells of Old Wise Tavern, Nucleus of Present City Hotel.

Mayor Fisher a few days ago received a letter from a lady in Carbondale, Ill., concerning the City Hotel at the southwest corner of Cameron and Royal streets. We make some extracts:

No. 417 West Main Street,
Carbondale, Ill., Feb. 18, 1913.

To His Honor the Mayor of Alexandria, Va:

Dear Sir:—The Wise Tavern of Alexandria was built by an ancestor of mine, Elizabeth Wise (nee Jennens.) She was born in England in 1744, and died in Alexandria in 1810. She was a daughter of John Jennens, who was a son of John, of Bath, and a first cousin of William of Acton, (William Jennens), of Acton Hall, Suffolk, and Grosvenor Square, London.

William of Acton, was the son of Robert Jennens. Robert was the son of Humphrey, (born in 1690), aide decamp to the Duke of Marlborough, by Ann, his wife, daughter and heir of Carew Gridott, esq., lineal descendant from Anthony Gridott, esq., knight, a noble Florentine, employed in sundry embassies by King Edward V.

The writer after tracing the family tree back over three hundred years, says:

"The City Hotel in Alexandria was built by Elizabeth Wise while her husband was on a visit to England, and was erected with her own money. It was a very fashionable and popular resort in its day and was patronized by General Washington before, during and after his elevation to the Presidency. At that time it was "bon ton" and patronized by the elite. I would kindly ask if it is possible for me to get some part of or any keepsake from this historical old tavern? I feel greatly interested in Alexandria, knowing my early ancestors settled there. I am expecting to visit friends in Washington and shall come to Alexandria. I should be very glad, indeed, to have sent me a newspaper from Alexandria, if my comments are spoken of.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

STATE LAWS DENOUNCED.

Existing Measures Outrage Common Intelligence, Says Dr. Freeman.

Richmond, Feb. 27.—One more commercial organization—the Association of Credit of Men—was added last night to the roll of Richmond business bodies, pledged, in conjunction with the chamber of commerce, the Bankers' Association and the Real Estate exchange, for the reform of what Dr. Douglas Freeman characterized in his address to the organization as the "outrageous tax laws, which robbed the widow and the orphan," and are "an insult to common intelligence."

The action was taken at a special dinner of the organization given Tuesday night in the dining room of the Business Men's Club, with over 100 of the 1775 members present, and calls upon the president, Colonel John S. Harwood, to name a special committee of three to co-operate with the other commercial organizations in the campaign to be waged at the forthcoming legislative session for the reform of the tax laws.

Dr. Freeman, special State tax commissioner for two years, and thoroughly conversant with the subject of taxation, was heard with marked attention, and was tendered a rising vote of thanks when he concluded.

Dr. Freeman said at the outset that probably few States in the Union suffered such a handicap in the matter of inequitable and unjust tax laws as Virginia, and that Virginia's laws were probably the worst of any. How business had prospered under such conditions was beyond comprehension, and if the Commonwealth continued such inquisitorial methods, it may expect to lose millions of taxable values.

The tax reform agitation, he said, was not a new thing. It began in 1881, but had been lost in the trail of years. He hoped and prayed that the present agitation would be continued until the desired reforms are effected. The inequalities of taxation he divided into two classes—localities and individuals—and cited some examples. He knew of a home on Grace street, purchased by its present owner for $125,000, that is assessed for $[illegible]1,000, while in Washington county land bought for $250 an acre was assessed for $15.

Richmond people are suffering for the sins of those who do not obey the tax law; Richmond is paying the criminal expenses of the delinquents.

The tax on mortages and bank deposits, Dr. Freeman characterized as "robbery of widows and orphans," an insult to common intelligence," [illegible]ute to the name of Virginia. He cited a Danville case in which [illegible] was left to a widow and her children by the deceased husband. The [illegible] had invested in a mortage [illegible]nt, and of the $150 annual [illegible] the widow received from this [illegible], she was forced by the tax [illegible] to pay the State $52 per annum.

Dr. Freeman had no criticism to [illegible] of Auditor Moore, beyond the [illegible] special grand juries set the tax matter, were only [illegible] gross inequality, for [illegible]ados[illegible]ns are all in, he said, [illegible] cities and counties which are now bearing the lion's share of the burden of taxation will find that their burden is heavier, while the delinquent counties will be found still [illegible]ding.

Lynchburg Banks Merge.

Lynchburg, Va., Feb. 27.—The [illegible]g National Bank and the National Exchange Bank have consolidated under the name of the Lynchburg National Exchange Bank. with a [illegible]d surplus and capital of $1,[illegible] half of which will be capital [illegible]f surplus.

People's National Bank, which [illegible]ding a skyscraper costing $350,[illegible]s decided to increase its capital [illegible]00,000 to $500,000, and its surplus from $400,000 to $500,000. This [illegible]e Lynchburg three banks of a dollars capital each.

WOMAN ON TRIAL.

Declares She Fired to Frighten and Aim Was Lower That Expected.

Luray, Va., Feb. 27.—Mrs. Myrtle Short has been placed on trial in the Page County Court charged with killing Hiram Getts, near Stanley, on the night of December 26th, whe nGetts, in company with several companions, went to Mrs. Short's home and demanded that the woman send her husband, Amos Short, on the outside, of the buildoing from whom it is reported ,they wanted to buy whiskey. Short being an alleged moonshiner. Mrs. Short began to parley with the men, who continued to advance on her house. Several times she warned them not to come any closer, and to intimidate them, she alleges that she fired her pistol. Her aim was lower than she supposed, a ball taking effect in Gett's abdomen. He was carried to the Norfolk and Western Railway, a physician starting with him to Baltimore. Getts died within an hour after being placed on the train.

Amos Short, the woman's husband, and Ashby Short, a brother are both blind. The men are now confined in the Page county jail, charged with infraction of the revenue laws. There are fourteen indictments against Amos Short.

RAID BY OFFICERS.

Nine Plants Destroyed and Thousands of Gallons of Beer Spilled.

Roanoke, Va., Feb. 27.—Nine illicit whiskey-making plants destroyed, including three complete copper outfits; one man captured, ninety gallons of corn whiskey and thousands of gallons of beer spilled, were the net results of a three day's raid ending Sunday night by revenue men in Franklin county. Comparing working force with results, it was one of the most succesful raids ever made in the mountains of that territory.

Deputy Collector R. F. Henry left Roanoke Friday for Rocky Mount, where he was joined by Posseman J. Ben Hodges. The two officers proceeded immediately to the vicinity of Callaway, Rural Route No. 3, where they seized and destroyed a complete copper outfit in operation and spilled 12,00 gallons of beer. The moonshiners made their escape.

Saturday morning the officers made their way to the vicinity of R. F. D. No. 1, in Floyd county, where they found one plant from which the still had been removed to safety. The remaining paraphernalia went under the axe, and the raiders set out to follow the freshly made tracks of an ox cart. They came upon a barrel containing forty-five gallons of liquor, which they poured out, but never caught sight of the cart. The liquor was found hidden in the brush some distance off the road.

At Endicott they seized and destroyed four plants, including one copper outfit, spilled forty-eight gallons of corn liquor, 3,000 gallons of beer, and captured George Martin,who was busily engaged around a still when the officers came up. According to the officers, Martin several years ago served a sentence of one year in the Atlanta prison for alleged complicity in the killing of an aged woman named Hall, in Patrick county. There being no marshall with the party the man was released.

Sunday another plant was unearthed and destroyed in the same vicinity, after which the officers proceeded to the vicinity of Dodson. Here one plant was captured after the copper apparatus had been removed to safety; 1,600 gallons of beer were spilled.

The last strike was in the vicinity of Rural Route No. 3, near Ferrum, and resulted in the destruction of a complete outfit, including a 200-gallon copper still and 2,0000 gallons of beer.

WAVES MOUNTAIN HIGH.

British Steamer Has Thrilling Experience in High Seas.

Newport, News, Va., Feb. 27.—With one man missing, one lifeboat swept overboard and two others smashed, her steam steering gear badly damaged and otherwise battered, the British steamer Ferndene arrived in port from Christiana, Norway, bringing a story of hardship and disasters, that few ships of her class have withstood. Captain Leighton and his officers say that they encountered one gale after another, and at times it appeared as if they must certainly go down. Waves mountain high swept the ship, and although loaded to her hatch covers, she frequently rolled rails under.

An awning frame over the false bridge, forty-five feet above the water was swept away by a wave that literally buried the steamer, the lifeboats were torn from their davits, and in one place the steel wall of the cabin was bent in. The boat deck was ripped and torn asunder, and, to make matters worse, during the height of one of the gales one of the gear wheels of the steering aparatus carried away, leaving the ship helpless. The gear threshed and banged about the deck, doing considerable damage until caught and made fast. A temporary gear was rigged up by the crew, and in this manner the vessel managed to reach port.

FATHER OF TEN A SUICIDE.

Fearing Internal Injury Incurable, he Hangs Himself.

York, Pa., Feb. 27.—Worry over an injury sustained about a year ago, when he was kicked by a horse, and said to be incurable caused Solomon Shearer, a farmer and blacksmith, 48 years old, to hang himself yesterday.

The farmer recently underwent an operation for an internal injury, and was told that he could not be cured. This caused him to become melancholy, and today his body was found suspended by a sash-cord from a beam in his barn. He leaves a wife and ten children.

MURDERS ANOTHER'S BRIDE.

Former Lover Slays Her Then Ends His Own Life.

Jersey City, Feb. 27.—A bride of less than a week, Mrs. Anna Andretta was cornered in the kitchen of her home and shot to death by John Johnson, a sailor on the United States receiving ship Hancock, yesterday. Johnson then shot and killed himself, his body falling across that of the woman.

Prior to her marriage to Andretta the victim was a Miss Vassell and acted as housekeeper for Johnson and his two orphan children from last August up to the time Andretta married her. Johnson, it is believed, was in love with her.

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this:

Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply.

A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT.

A simple wash of a compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients, as combined in the D.D.D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 50 cent bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this D.D.D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive pay guarantee. D.D.D. Soap keeps the pores clean; ask us.

CRIME PICTURES NOT WANTED.

As was stated yesterday, an ordinance was introduced at the Tuesday night's meeting of the City Council to elminate murder and other questionable reels which are exhibited in moving pictures shows. Such movements have been started in other cities, it being believed, and probably justly, that they have a demoralizing effect upon the rising generation.

It is suggested by some persons that to the young such representations are real to young people whose minds are in the plastic state, and after having fed upon Indian and cowboy scenes they are liable to imagine that the chief end of man is to be an outlaw.

Moving pictures o fa proper nature are both instructive and interesting, and some of the more ridiculous afford seasoning to the human mind. In many instances the pictures are suitable, as they represent places the great majority cannot visit, and are naturally studied with interest.

It is the dangerous portrayals which the authorities aim to suppress, thus stifling the taste of youngsters to dress themselves as cowboys and Indian players, imagining that they can fire ramrods from guns and impale half a dozen redskins at a time.

Half a century or more ago a series of cheap books was published by a Philadelphia concern portraying wild western scenes. Colonel Davy Crockett was the hero of each. This patriotic man was pictured as a mighty hunter who went out and shot Indians as he would crows. A passage in one of these books stated that Crockett had a sick mare and he went out and shot an Indian, cut him in pieces, placed the dismembered parts into a huge dinner pot, made soup, gave it to the sick mare and it recovered immediately. Young people at that time read these prints, studied the pictures and imagined that to be an Indian hunter afforded more glory than imputed to philosophers.

CAN BRYAN BEAT SENATOR MARTIN?

For the third time in recent years, William Jennings Bryan, the self-appointed dictator of the destinies of the Democratic party, is attempting to defeat Senator Thomas S. Martin, of Virginia,for the leadership of his party in the Senate. On previous occasions Mr. Bryan has signally failed and that the same result will reward his efforts again is believed by the conservative politicians who are familiar with the situation in Washington.

Mr. Bryan's candidate now is Senator Kern, of Indiana, a gentleman to whom we made reference yesterday as waxing warm in his praise of the Union veterans, declaring that he would not favor a memorial bridge across the Potomac, a "peace highway" to Richmond or a memorial to President Jefferson Davis, until every Northern soldier is drawing a pension and the United States government is out of debt. This is translated to mean "never" by those who favor the "memorial."

Coming as it did, so soon after Senator Kern's absence of a month from the Senate, to defend the dynamiters of Indianapolis, the speech has been the subject of all manner of comment, especially as Mr. Kern is asking the support of Southern Senators, who are not in sympathy with his pension plan.

In striking contrast to Senator Kern's utterances, was the recent speech made by Mr. Mann, of Chicago, the Republican leader in the House. Mr. Mann said:

"I hope soon to see the federal government build a memorial bridge across the Potomac river, connecting what was the South with the rest of the country, and from that bridge a great highway built to the City of Richmond, capital of the late Southern Confederacy, and at the end of that road a monument erected by the federal government to a great Southern leader, Jefferson Davis.' '

Or compare Senator Kern's utterances with te work Senator Martain did last night for the memorial oridge and his succes sagainst al lthe influences that were brought to bear to defeat the measure.

We frankly believe that when these facts become better known no Southern Senator will supoprt Kern and in that case Bryan following will be left without a candidate. They have already discarded Hoke Smith, of Georgia, as not being able to defeat the Virginian.

CELEBRATION OF TREATY OF GHENT.

The acceptance by Mayor Fisher of the invitation to join the committee of 100 named by the Commissioners of the District of Columbia for the celebration of 100th anniversary of the Anglo-American Peace and the appointment of a committee of prominent citizens to co-operate in the preparations for the event brings to mind how closely Alexandria was associated in the stirring times that immediately preceded the signing of the peace treaty between the United States and England at Ghent. .

Alexandria, like its neighbor across the Potomac suffered greatly from the depredations of the English in the war of 1812 and whe nthe war was brought to an end our citizens were extremely gratified.

The signing of the treaty of Ghent marked an epoch in the history of international relations of the United States, its lasting significance being indicated by the fact that for one hundred years its expressions of amity have been an actual reality—"being desirous of terminating the war which has unhappily subsisted betwene the two countries and of restoring, upon principles of perfect reciprocity, peace, friendship and good understanding between them."

The plans of the committee in charge of the celebration is to initiate the same on December 24, 1914, the the anniversary of the actual date of signature of the commissioners, and that its main portion be concentrated during the week in February the anniversary of the ratification of the treaty by the United States Senate and the President.

Academy Burned.

South Boston, Va., Feb. 27.—The Hall school bulding, containing study hall and recitation rooms, at Cluster Springs Academy, was destroyed by fire at 2:30 yesterday afternoon. School had closed for the day, a few minutes before the fire was discovered.

It originated in an attic from a defective flue, and had spread entirely through the upper part of the building before discovered.

Many of the desks and most of the books were saved, and the work of the school will go on without interruption, as all classes will be held tomorew in the dormitories. The loss is estimated at $3,500, with $1,500 insurance.

LENT.

Letn is a season that comes every year,
A season we all must respect,
When the churches demand that our records be clear,
And our lives show no blemish or speck.
It's tolerably hard for those forty long days,
To follow the path that's called straight,
And just be a fellow who fasts and who prays,
And puts aside envy and hate.

It hits us right hard to give up playing bridge,
And we hate to abstain from the show,
And it isn't much fun to smile at old Squidge,
When we'd far rather soak him, you know.
It causes a pang to stop hitting the weed,
And you suffer because your throat's dry,
But you're gaining in strength on this Lentes-time creed
And you're growing in grace, by-the-by.

And it's worth all the sacrifice, longing and strain
When you go to your church now and then,
And hark to the sermon that's telling the pain
Of the Master's last days among men.
So you figure how small is the price that you pay,
The time in atonement you've spent,
For the soothing and comforting grace that you pray
All folks may enjoy during Lent.

We have it from good authority that some of our rival local poets say the Second Ward Bard's verses are simply punk.Well, we consider the source, as the negro said when he was kicked by a mule.

Honesty is the best policy. Between us, that's the reason Dick Cox hasn't got more patients around at his St. Asaph street sanitarium.

We understand a member of the local bar attended that lecture about the children on Monday evening. Well, it's time some of these bachelors were getting the notion.

Sound aloud the fire alarm,
Get the engines out,
Everybody jumps and runs!
Heavens! How they shout.

Back they come all tired and worn,
Mad enough to choke,
It ain't right to send 'em miles
To see a chimney smoke.

ROLLER SKATING.

(Communicated.)

The world is a theatre upon which each one wishes to show himself to the best advantage, and to play his part well, it is but to let each play his own. It is safe to presume, that there will be quite a little side stepping when the law in reference to roller skating comes up in Council. That the extent to which it is carried is a nuisance in some parts of our city, there can be no question. Four or five houses on south Alfred street with granolithic pavements had an average of 28 skaters, black and white, from the time the schools close till late in the night. They not only mar the beauty of the pavement but they ruin the lawns in front of these houses. One lady in this row is suffering with nervous break down and no sane person will argue that it is half right. On the next street in front of Grace Church and parsonage as many more gather, and the crowd, not satisfied with the noise made by the skates, some of which were patented previous to the flood, tie a tin can to the back of the skate and drag it along after them. Why the other night on King street when it was crowded, about a dozen negroes, stockingless, ill-clad some of them barefooted had on skates and everybody had to get out of their way, or be knocked down. The ladies who appeared before the joint committee of Council the other night certainly did not refer to this class of people as elevating company for their children. I do not know whether all of them have children or not, but I do know that the larger percentage of those who attended the meeting have no granolithic pavements and hence do not get the full benefit of the nuisance. It will require a manly man to stand up in Council and voice a protest against this nuisance. Any figure head can take what he terms the popular side of this question. But when men are elected to Council they get a desire for office and they will ride any old horse which they think will carry them safely across the political stream and into the haven long sought. Even as a hawk flieth not high with one wing, even so a man reaches not excellency with one tongue.

SAID SHE WOULD FAINT

Mrs. Della Long Unable to Stand On Her Feet More Than a Few Minutes at a Time.

Pendergrass, Ga.—Mrs. Della Long, of this place, in a recent letter, says: "For five or six years, I suffered agonies with womanly troubles.

Often, I couldn't sit up more than a few minutes at a time, and if I stood on my feet long, I would faint.

I took Cardui, and it helped me immediately. Now, I can do my work all the time, and don't suffer like I did."

Take Cardui when you feel ill in any way—weak, tired, miserable, or under the weather. Cardui is a strength-building tonic medicine for women.

It has been found to relieve pain and distress caused by womanly troubles, and is an excellent medicine to have on hand at all times.

Cardui acts on the womanly constitution, building up womanly strength, toning up the nerves, and regulating the womanly organs.

Its half century of success is due to merit. It has done good to thousands.

Will you try it? It may be just what you need. Ask your druggist about Cardui. He will recommend it.

March in Rain.

Laurel, Md., Feb. 27.—A gloomy downpour of rain did not dispel the joyous expectation of the suffrage "army" today—the realization that they are now on the "homestretch" of their hike from New York. The hikers took to the road at 9 o'clock enroute to Hyattsville. "Gen." Rosalie Jones wants to reach the Maryland village, which is only 8 miles from Washington, the end of their journey, some time this afternoon. If the "army" appears fresh enough after this 12 mile march, Gen. Jones may push on to Bladensburg, a couple of miles nearer the National Capital. The suffragettes want to make as brave a show as possible tomorrow when they march into Washington, and don't want too long a hike along muddy roads before they tramp through the city streets.

This was the second rainy day the marchers have encountered since leaving New York, but the enthusiasm and knowledge that the hike was almost concluded, overcame the disadvantage of water-soaked clothing.

"A little rain doesn't bother us in the least,' 'said Colonel Craft. "After going through the torture of marching through Maryland mud, this sort of weather, the roads we have ahead of us are easy."

The more hearty members of the band eschewed rubbers today, declaring had hardened anyway.

Wedding.

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 27.—Julian S. Dillon, 22, son of John Dillon, Wall street broker in New York, and Miss Ruth M. Powers, 18, of 341 Bellview Avenue, Trenton, N. J., were married here last night by the Rev. George L. Wolfe.

Zurich.—"I would not have bothered about him only he was wearing my skates," nonchalantly remarked 10-year- old Emil Reich after he had rescued a companion from a hole in the ice.

Red Bank, N. J.—Granite tombstones have been placed over the graves of fifteen horses on the farm of the late Robert F. Collier, the publisher.

New York.—Fannie Brice, actress and former manager of a beauty parlor in Boston suing for divorce, said she married Frank White because she had nothing else to do that day. She got a decree.

South Orange, N. J.—Hail stones looked so much like candy to five-year-old Luther Quinn that he ate a handful of them. He died of indigestion several hours later.

New York.—Thes keiton of a duck-billed dinosaur that frisked about the Red Deer river region some 3,000,000 years ago, has been placed in the American Museum of Natural History.

Smith College Caramels.

Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter and add three-fourths cupful of thin cream, one cupful of sugar, and one cupful of molasses. Bring to the boiling-point and add four squares of unsweetened chocolate, letting it melt gradually. Continue the boiling, stirring occasionally, until a firm ball is formed in cold water. Add one-half teaspoonful of vanilla and turn into a slightly buttered pan, having the mixture three-fourths inch in depth. Wrap in squares of paraffin paper.—Woman's Home Companion.

Ham Croquettes.

One cup of finely chopped cold ham, two cups of hot mashed potatoes, add a tablespoon of milk, one of melted butter; salt and pepper to taste. Mix well together and form into croquettes. Dip in a well-beaten egg, then in rolled cracker crumbs and fry in hot lard a nice brown. Serve hot.

Flies in New Houses Explained.

"Moving into an apartment that had never before been occupied," said a flat-dweller, "we were struck unpleasantly by the number of flies we found there and for their presence we were quite unable to account.

"It was some relief to us to be told by a friend that there are always lots of flies in new houses; that they are drawn by the paste used in the papering, and while the work is going they have free ingress; and then when the house is finished it is likely to be closed up and the flies left there to be found when the first tenant moves in."

Pronounced Check.

Woggley had been found guilty, and sentenced to pay a fine of $50.

"Oh, well," he said, "of course I'll have to pay, because I am in a great hurry to get on, but I haven't $50 in my pocket. Will you take my check?"

"Sure," said the justice.

Woggley drew his check, and at once proceeded to crank up his machine.

"Hyar, mister," cried the justice, "they hain't no need o' your doin' that. I'd ought to have told ye we'll hev to hold that there car ez s'curity till the check goes through."—Harper's Weekly.

BLACK WITH COLOR DESIGNS

Hosiery of the Moment Is, to Say the Least, Eccentric and in Some Cases Startling.

The mode in stockings has been very interesting for a long time, and the new introductions show no signs of waning eccentricity and beauty.

Black hosiery is reasserting its claims to the supremacy it enjoyed for many years, and lost only when the rage for colored stockings came into vogue. But the black footgear now introduced has a decorative design in color upon it.

Upon the instep of one pair brilliant green lizards rendered in beads disport themselves, and upon another, lightly limned in sequins, blue dragon flies are seen. Shot silk stockings are being received with favor for morning wear.

They agree well with the ratine suit which is striped in two shades of one color or in black and purple, or some other dye as a decorative.

The fashion for parting the draperies of the evening skirt, in order to show the left foot and ankle, is responsible for the introduction of lovely white and flesh-colored silk stockings, studded elaborately with flashing jewels or metallic threads.

WHITE CHEEKS ARE NO MORE

Tint of the Gypsy Has Replaced the So Long Familiar "Apple Blossom" Effects.

Parisiennes have adopted a new complexion. It is no longer fashionable to have lily white cheeks or to blanche the face like a Pierrot. To be "chic" one must have a brown tint like a gypsy.

A Parisian reception will wear precisely the air of a collection of colonial beauties and sportswomen. And yet there is no sacrifice of refinement or elegance in the new fad. A change of flesh color has not entailed a change in the fit and fashion of the dress. The French woman will still be impeccably clothed notwithstanding that her pallor and indoors look have departed, leaving a faint touch of tan.

We must make our adieux to "roses and cream," to "apple blossom," to the "clear spring mornings" and "fair moonbeams." It is the imagery of the poets, but it is no longer true. Gone is the immaculate body of the sculptor as an object of adoration; in its place we shall address our odes to the dusky queens. There is a new war of the roses; the white have been defeated by the red.

Laces Popular.

Lace and figured chiffons and voiles are daintily wrought into charming evening frocks for girls who need thin dancing and dinner gowns. The bertha effect in lace or beaded nets is very popular, and, moreover, immensely become either a stout or slight person. It hides any unsightly lines and adds charm to good figures. —Harper's Bazar.

Easily Pulled.

When drawing threads for hemstitching or drawn work wet a small brush, rub it over a cake of soap until a lather is produced, then scrub the threads that you wish to draw. You will be suprised no less than pleased to see how easily they may be pulled out, without breaking.—Needlecraft.

NEW USE OF MOVING PICTURES

Moving pictures are being put to new use, which will result in the saving of life and limb. Professor Munsterburg of Harvard is responsible for what is known as the cinematograph nerve test, which is said will reduce motor car accident in the United States to a minimum. The professor's theory is that no young man ought to become a chauffeur if his tests indicate that he would not be quick enough to stop his car if a child ran out in the roadway in front of the wheels, says the New Orleans Picayune. In the test for chauffeurs at Harvard the subject is placed in a motor car in a hall equipped for the purpose. He is seated at the wheel of the machine which is jacked up so that all the machinery is movable, while the car remains stationary. The experiments are conducted in a darkened room. In front of the cars is a white wall, on which moving pictures of great size are shown. They are immediately before the chauffeur student's eyes. The student is then told to act as he would in real life if he saw any one of the things happen that appear on the screen. Although he knows that the car is not actually running, the fact that he is under a test puts the student on edge and makes him behave approximately as he would under ordinary circumstances. A child is first shown on the screen with startling realism, tottering across the road in front of the car. The chauffeur is, of course, expected to handle his car without an instant's loss of time, just as he would have to do if the emergency rose in real life. This is the most important test to which the students are subjected by the Harvard system.

She Admitted It.

Little Ella's father was an eminent author, and one day while he was at luncheon the little girl occupied a chair in his study. Shortly a caller was ushered in, and with a pleasant smile inquired:

"I suppose you assist your father in entertaining hores?"

"Yes, sir," replied Ella, gravely; "please be seated."—Harper's Bazar

EXPECT DECISION TODAY.

Governor Believed to be Preparing His Final Statement in Allen Case.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 27.—It is the general opinion in and about the state capitol that Governor Mann will act in the Allen cases probably today. It is known that the executive has for the past few days been busily engaged over papers pertaining to the past trials of the two mountain clansmen and early action on his part is now regarded as assured.

The Rev. J. J. Scherer, spiritual adviser to Claude and Floyd Allen, was a visitor at the executive offices yesterday, as was R. P. Bruce, former state Senator from Wise. Mr. Bruce is an ardent Allen sympathizer and has on former occasions interceded with his excellency in behalf of the two doomed men.

No word has been received from Governor Mann which might indicate in the slightest when action will be taken by him, or what will be the nature of such action. It is believed, however, that the Governor will announce himself by the middle of this week. Great interest attaches to his probable decision on commutation.

Fire in Staunton.

Staunton, Va., Feb. 27.—A fire of unknown origin at an early hour yesterday morning partly destroyed the $10,000 stock of groceries of Rosenberger & Co., in the Trout building. Five thousand dollars insurance was carried on the goods.

Merchants Indicted.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 27.—Eight local merchants were indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury for bribery conspiracy to defraud the United States in connection with the commissary steward scandal in the Atlantic fleet. No steward was indicted. The men gave bail and will be tried in May.

Druggist Held for Murder.

Richmond, Feb. 27.—Thomas W. McCrary, a drug clerk, was arrested here yesterday charged with murder in having caused the death Tuesday of Robert Lee Masurier, a fur-year-old child. McCrary compounded one and one-half grains of bichloride of mercury instead of calomel, which, a physician insisted before a coroner's jury, he had ordered when giving the prescription by telephone.

Tucker Boomed For Federal Bench.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 27.—Friends of Harry St. George Tucker are reported to be urging him to become a candidate for the seat on the Federal Circuit Court bench to be vacated by Judge Goff, who was recently elected United States Senator in West Virginia. Those close to Mr. Tucker believe he will not consent to the use of his name for the judiciary position, owing to the fact that he has his eyes on the governorship of Virginia.

Among Richmond lawyers in the race are Henry R. Pollard, City Attorney; Archibald W. Patterson, who was a member of Woodrow Wilson's law class at the University of Virginia, and Willis B. Smith, Richard Evelyn Byrd and Charles V. Meredith, while not avowed candidates, have considerable backing.

Fireman Killed.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 26.—Fireman J. I. Gillespie died a hero's death here today in the collapse of two stores at 140 and 142 Whitehall street. The fireman rescued six women from a part of the structure, which had fallen through, when the remainder of the building suddenly collapsed, burying Gillespie under a mass of bricks. Several policemen were injured by flying bricks and debris.

DEAD MAN RODE IN AUTO.

Slayer Ran Machine With Corpse Propped up by Side.

Salem, Mass., Feb. 27.—For half an hour after he had killed George E. Marsh, an aged manufacturer of Lynn, Willam A. Dorr drove up and down the Lynn boulevard with the body propped up beside him in the single seat of his runabout.

Other automobiles passed him, but though it was light, he attracted no attention.

This is a part of the remarkable story Dorr told yesterday to a jury before whom he is being tried for murder.

The state alleges that Marsh was murdered in order that the defendant might profit directly through a trust fund which he thought would go to his aunt, Miss Orpha Marsh, with whom he lived in Stockton, Cal., upon the death of Marsh.

Dorr's plea is self-defense, and he took the stand to tell how he killed Marsh.

He told in detail of his life in Stockton. His aunt's property was involved, he said, and believing it was being mismanaged decided to come East and see privately George E. Marsh, trustee of the funds.

While he and Marsh were driving in an automobile Marsh made an insinuating remark about Miss Marsh. They quarreled and the defendant started to leave the car. Marsh tried to stop him and he was shot in the scuffle that followed.

TROUBLE AMONG HIKERS.

Suffragettes Averse to Marching With Colored Women.

The suffragist "army" which started to march from New York to Washington may not march into the Capital after, all despite the fact that the goal is so near at hand. The race problem, which has been as a cloud over the pilgrims since they crossed the Mason and Dixon line, may be the cause of the "army" disbanding.

"General" Jones, who, with her marchers, reached Laurel, Md., late yesterday afternoon from Baltimore, after a trying day in which they were hissed and in other ways coldly received, was told last night that a large party of colored advocates of women's rights would join her army in Laurel this morning to finish the march with the army.

Not only the officers but every one of the pilgrims is aroused over the story which was given credence by the fact that when passing through Winans, the town from which, according to reports, the recruits are to come, the marchers were met by a large party of colored women bearing a yellow banner on which was inscribed, in large letters, "Votes for negro women." The colored delegation, ignored by the regular army, marched but a short distance with it and then retired.

"General" Jones and a majority of her force emphatically stated that if the colored women joined the "army it would be summarily disbanded, and the pilgrims would take trains immediately for New York nad Washington.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

The House yesterday tentatively approved a naval building program of one dreadnought during the next fiscal year, following four days of bitter strife between the "economy" Democrats and the "big navy" advocates. The vote was 130 to 113 for Representative Tribble's amendment specifying one battleship, in place of the two recommended by the naval committee.

The House sitting as a committee of the whole broke up in a near riot at 1 o'clock yesterday, when Representative Murray of Massachusetts was literally thrown from the speaker's rostrum by a husky deputy sergeant-at-arms, when he attempted to remonstrate with Representative Alexander, of Missouri, for alleged unfairness. Murray, struggling and fighting with the sergeant-at-arms, who held him easily, was immediately surrounded by excited members of the House, who shouted in a mad turmoil.

In what is probably his last message to Congress, President Taft yesterday detailed in a communication of nearly 25,000 words, his plans for a national "budget." Declaring the government faces a Treasury deficit of $25,000,000 next year, Taft presented a detailed, coordinate scheme which he outlines as a definite business like fiscal policy, instead of what he terms a "government without a plan program. Retirement of greenbacks, repeal of the sinking fund law centralized supervision of receipts and expenditures, and a score of economies were suggested.

MAN SCALPED.

Runaway Victim, After a Party, Is Frightfully Injured.

Selinsgrove, Pa., Feb. 27.—Caught by his hair in the wheel of a runaway hack, dragged a quarter of mile, Lloyd Mull, of Kreamer, was scalped early this morning. His skin and flesh finally tore off, dropping his unconscious body in the road. He has little chance of recovery.

A score of men and women were returning to their homes in Kreamer, Snyder county, from a dance at Glenn Mills, when the horses became frightened on a steep hill and ran away. Mull and Howard Leitzel occupied the driver's seat, and were precipitated over the dashboard as they tugged on the reins.

Leitzel sustained serious injuries by being trampled under the horses' hoofs, and some of the frantic men and women fainted in the vehicle; others jumped and were injured. They were Miss Laura Leitzel, finger crushed, and Mrs. Calvin Aumiller, Miss Stella Ritter, Oscar Hummel, and Harry Leitzel, each sustaining internal injuries and face lacerations.
